Designed by architect Carlo Colombo, the Paris armchair from Rugiano is covered in matelassé quilted stitching on the entire outer surface, while the large back cushions and curve ensure comfort. Bronze and leather frames the entire collection. rugiano.com

Debuted at immCologne, Minotti's new Leslie sofa is a luxurious interpretation of a vintage loveseat coupled with Italian-made flair. "Minotti approaches furniture design like artists and engineers," says Mary Ta, owner of Minotti's Los Angeles showroom. "The sofa is incredibly elegant, comfortable and inviting for an intimate conversation." Made in Italy and designed by Rodolfo Dordoni, it can be upholstered in plush fabric or seamless leather, and will be available nationwide and exclusively at Minotti's LA showroom. minotti-la.com

With its elegant, fold-over back, the Sofia chair from Cattelan is all about options. Available with or without arms, the transitional piece is available in 35 different leathers and more than 20 other fabric variations for the seat. This April, the chair, along with other items in Cattelan's latest collection, will be showcased at Salone del Mobile in Milan. cattelanitalia.com
